ALASKA CHARR UPDATES

ALASKA CHARR PARTNERS WITH AMERICAN HOTEL & LODGING ASSOCIATION

For decades, Alaska CHARR has championed advocacy and relief efforts for hotel and lodging hospitality businesses, raising hundreds of millions of dollars to help support and sustain those that desperately need it. When COVID-19 decimated the hospitality industry, we fought vigorously every day to help these organizations sustain and maintain their livelihood.

Alaska CHARR fully embraces our responsibility to all hotel and lodging businesses within our great state of Alaska. We are excited and honored to partner with the American Hotel & Lodging Association in being Alaska's official industry representative and do even more fundamental and necessary work for these businesses that need a voice. We know this partnership will bring much change and many new opportunities, and we look forward to doing our part in advancing the hospitality industry in Alaska.

NATIONAL UPDATES

EWEA CAN AID OPERATORS IN NEED OF EMPLOYEES

In a recent webinar, Angelo Amador, Exec. Read the webinar recap.

A SHALLOW POOL FOR SUMMER HIRES

Summer jobs are typically filled by teenagers, college students, teachers, and retirees. Given the current labor market, hospitality businesses will likely need maximum participation from all these groups if they want to fill openings for the summer season. Read up on the factors that will impact hospitality staffing levels for summer 2022.

PFA'S LITIGATION AND POLICY CONCERNS

Lawsuits are being filed against restaurants involving PFAs ("forever chemicals") in packaging. On Wed., June 8, 3 p.m. ET, the Restaurant Law Center welcomes Laura Abshire, the Association's director of Food & Sustainability Policy, along with attorneys from law firm partner Sheppard Mullin, for a discussion and review of recent class actions and their case theories.
