SENATE BILL 9

After more than ten years of tireless hours, great debates, dozens of legislative hearings, and significant compromises between hundreds of stakeholders, we are excited and proud to announce that Senate Bill 9 (SB 9) has finally passed the Alaska legislature and heads to Governor Dunleavy for a signature!

This comprehensive alcohol reform bill will modernize outdated alcohol laws, allow for significant evolution and innovation of businesses around the state, and create clarity and certainty for an industry that experienced inconsistency and confusion in the interpretation and applicability of laws and regulations.

While these developments are exciting and much needed, please keep in mind that there will be a long regulation process, and there are no immediate changes to business operations.

Alaska CHARR President & CEO Sarah Oates and Lee Ellis, President of the Brewers Guild of Alaska, will be going on a year-long roadshow around the state, providing information and answering questions.

Stay tuned for updates from Alaska CHARR.

NATIONAL UPDATES

RRF REPLENISHMENT FAILS IN SENATE

Unable to reach an agreement on how to pay for legislation that would have replenished the Restaurant Revitalization Fund, the Senate last Thursday voted against debating the Small Business COVID-19 Relief Act of 2022. With support from 52 senators, the legislation fell short of the 60-vote threshold needed to advance. Read the statement from our partners at the National Restaurant Association here.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION COULD HELP EASE LABOR SHORTAGE

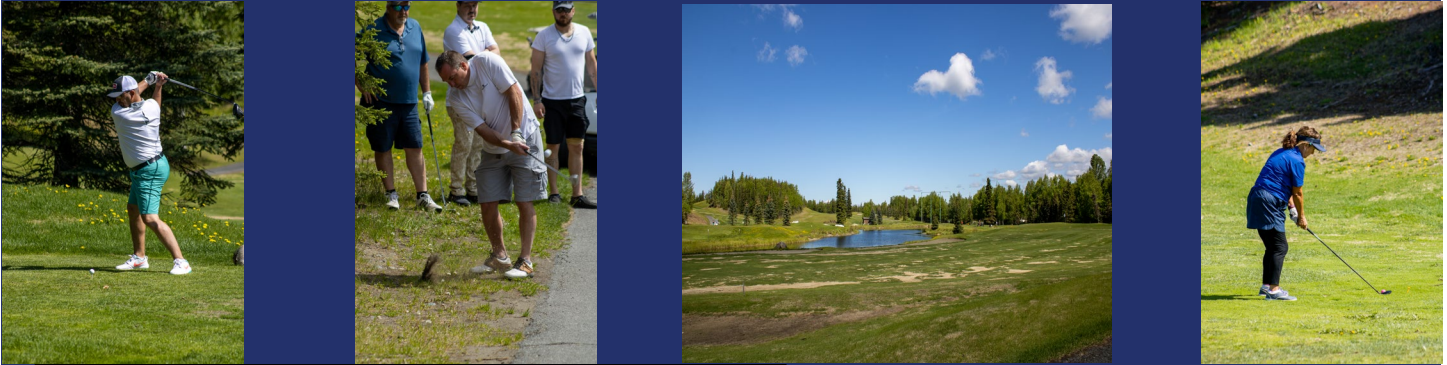

In a recent webinar, Angelo Amador, Exec. Dir. of the Restaurant Law Center, laid out how the Essential Workers for Economic Advancement legislation would produce a steady stream of year-round workers to help alleviate labor challenges that have forced some hospitality businesses to cut hours of service and led to supply-chain bottlenecks. Read the webinar recap.

SUMMER HIRING WILL BE CHALLENGING

Summer jobs are typically filled by teenagers, college students, teachers, and retirees. Given the current labor market, hospitality businesses will likely need maximum participation from all these groups if they want to fill openings for the summer season. Read up on the factors that will impact hospitality staffing levels for summer 2022.

ASIAN AMERICAN & PACIFIC ISLAND CHEFS INFLUENCE OUR INDUSTRY

As Asian American Pacific Islander Heritage Month wraps up, we wanted to highlight 4 exceptional AAPI chefs—David Chang, Roy Choi, Cristeta Comerford, and Ming Tsai—whose experience, innovations, and influence have broadened and enriched the restaurant industry in the U.S. Read their stories.
