Many of you likely have first-hand experience or know of other licensees who have had issues over the last few years trying to get in contact with or getting answers from the Alcohol and Marijuana Control Office (AMCO). While CHARR has attempted to assist individuals with AMCO questions and lessen the impacts, it has become obvious that the correct places to direct these questions are to attorneys or the AMCO staff.

Ongoing efforts by both offices will continue to be made to improve direct communication with AMCO. Our President and CEO, Sarah Oates, now meets monthly with AMCO Director, Erika McConnell, to discuss issues and develop a better working relationship between our offices. Director McConnell has written me with several specifics that she believes will help improve communication with licensees including:

• Assigning two licensing examiners to work full time on alcohol applications with a third examiner shifting between alcohol and marijuana as needed.

• AMCO examiners constantly monitoring the alcohol licensing email and answer phone calls. All voice messages are promptly returned. Director McConnell assures me, “The staff is aware of my emphasis on timely responses to emails and phone calls, even if it is to say that we don’t yet have an answer and are working on the issue.”

• AMCO’s Local Government Specialist position – which was created in 2016 and tasked to work with local governments and to spend a significant portion of time on education and outreach – will be freed up to spend more time on education and outreach. For example, license renewal training was offered by AMCO last year in the Alaska CHARR training room. In response I have assured Director McConnell that, “CHARR will help get the word out on these offerings so licensees can attend and get the valuable information they need before the crunch of license renewal times. CHARR hopes to work with AMCO on developing more of these outreach sessions and written materials to help licensees with renewals and other frequently asked questions.”

• AMCO created an electronic mailing list to which licensees may subscribe. This will serve as a place to get email updates and information on current affairs at AMCO.

• Director McConnell has also expressed a desire to make changes to AMCO’s website to provide more resources for licensees and applicants, welcoming input and suggestions from CHARR staff.

With the implementation of these improvements and the always-changing nature of regulations, the best places for licensees to acquire help on license applications and legal interpretations are through attorneys or the AMCO staff. CHARR staff, if asked, will direct current or future licensees with individual questions to those resources for answers. Questions and ideas that affect multiple licensees, portions of the industry, or the industry as a whole may continue to be directed to CHARR.

Contact information for attorneys who specialize in alcohol and business law can be found in advertisements within this magazine.

Paul Thomas Chairman of the Board
You have undoubtedly noticed a number of changes with our organization over the past eight months. In case you’ve missed some, here’s a summary of what’s been happening with Alaska CHARR and around the state:

Our headquarters have moved!
Albeit not far, the Alaska CHARR office has moved downstairs to Suite 102 of our building. In order to turn our building into more of a business hub for our members, we will begin renting out individual offices upstairs in early October to other business associations and legal firms who specialize in business and labor law.

Collaboration to improve our industries and communities!
Collaboration is a word that I use frequently. Many of my goals for Alaska CHARR and the industries we represent involve collaboration – with public health organizations, government officials at all levels, and representatives from all tiers of the alcohol industry – to increase communication, education, and compliance; to give us a real seat at the table during important decision making; to support and improve our communities; to work on issues that really matter; to help our industries become more robust; and to reunify the industry and truly exemplify strength through unity.

New charity auction + dinner night at convention!
This year, we will hold the charity auction and dinner at the incredible Alaska Sea Life Center in conjunction with our Ice Breaker Reception during the opening night of our 49th Annual Alaska CHARR Convention. Be sure to show up ready to view and touch local marine life, mingle, and support the Seward High School Booster Club with generous bids and donations! The funds will be used for equipment and travel expenses for all sports teams that aren’t covered by the school.

New board member appointment from Kodiak!
With both of our former Kodiak board members submitting their resignations earlier this year, we will have two awesome new members joining us in Seward for our convention. Long time restauranteur and bar owner, Ana Bravo, of El Chi’s Bar & Grill has been appointed to serve for the remainder of the 2018-2020 term. Helen Hartman has managed the American Legion Post #17 for 15 of her 24 years of employment there, and she has been elected to serve on our board for the 2019-2021 term.

New TAP prices!
For the first time ever, Alaska CHARR has raised the prices for TAP training in order to keep up with increased expenses. The cost for members and their employees to take the class has only increased by $5, and the cost to test out for a renewal by $10. The Alaska CHARR Board of Directors hopes this will encourage more individuals to retake the class every three years in order to remain updated on the ever-changing state alcohol laws.

New legal buying age for tobacco in Anchorage!
The Anchorage Assembly voted to increase the legal purchasing age for tobacco products, electronic smoking devices, and smoking-relating products (rolling papers, etc.) to 21. The new law went into effect on August 20. Statewide, the age for buying tobacco products is 19. Last year, Sitka was the first community in Alaska to pass a measure raising that to 21. Anchorage is the second.

Expect more big changes to continue – I have been working diligently on some projects that will add major member value, so stay tuned! If you have any questions, concerns, or recommendations, please feel free to reach out.

AMCO issues approximately 1,350 permits per year, and we get numerous inquiries from licensees and the general public who have ideas or questions of what they are allowed to do under a permit that are often in direct conflict with Title 4 or the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board’s regulations. AMCO strives to provide the highest level of customer service in the form of timely responses, useful resources, and accurate information. While it is impossible to discuss every permit issue in a limited space, the following information touches on many of the most common questions and issues related to permits. Feel free to email amco.permits@alaska.gov or call 907-269-0350 if you have unanswered questions.

Application deadlines: Applications for all permits except Special Event Permits must be submitted a minimum of 24 hours before the start of the event, and for events on Saturday or Sunday, the application must be received no later than noon on the Friday before. Special Event Permit applications must be received at least 10 days prior to the event date (AS 04.11.240). If corrections to the permit application are needed, you will be informed of the deadline to submit corrections. AMCO appreciates receiving permit applications earlier than these deadlines, in order to have sufficient time to review the application.

Fees: The fee for most permits is $50 per permit. Exceptions are Special Event Permits, which have a fee of $50 per day, and Club License Caterer’s Permits, which have a fee of $100. A Multiple Event Art Exhibit Permit has a fee of $100. Local law enforcement (which is required to sign off on permit applications prior to submittal to AMCO) may charge a separate fee.

Permitted Premises: The diagram for the premises to be permitted must contain a detailed description of the proposed premises. Please read and follow the diagram instructions on the permit application carefully. If an outdoor area is proposed to be permitted, a security plan must be submitted as well. The permitted premises must be controlled to ensure that unaccompanied minors do not enter, that alcohol is controlled, and that other Title 4 requirements are followed. If a permitted event is to be on a licensed premises, the license may not be operated during the duration of the permitted event.

MOST COMMON PERMIT TYPES

Caterer’s Permit: Issued to Beverage Dispensary License holders (BDL) with operating licenses, to sell or dispense alcoholic beverages at conventions, picnics, social gatherings, sporting events, or similar affairs held off the holder’s licensed premises. Multi-day events will be allowed under a single permit only if the event attendees remain the same for all days, such as for a typical convention. Otherwise a separate permit is required for each day, although a single application form may be allowed if the pertinent information is the same for all days. If multiple BDL licensees are participating in an event, each licensee must obtain a separate permit.

Restaurant Caterer’s Dinner Permit: Issued to Restaurant or Eating Place License (REPL) or Golf Course License holders to sell or dispense beer or wine before and during service of food provided by the licensee at a designated location for a banquet or dinner event held off the holder’s licensed premises. These permits are for banquet or dinner events only. They are not intended to be used for concerts, receptions, or other social events where a meal is not the focus of the gathering, even though food will be served.

Bobbie Sue Wolk, MS, PCC, CPEC
Principal – Rosewood Coaching, LLC/Owner

Bobbie Sue Wolk is the first International Coaching Federation (ICF) Certified Coach in Alaska. She is a certified executive coach, industrial-organizational psychologist, accountant, business consultant, adjunct professor, author and entrepreneur with experience in all aspects of running organizations that achieve success. Bobbie Sue holds an advanced coaching certificate from the College of Executive Coaching, and is also a faculty member at the college. She has an international client base and holds workshops throughout Alaska and the Lower 48. Bobbie Sue takes a holistic approach to her work with business leaders to maximize their personal, spiritual and professional potential in order to help them to achieve the optimal balance in their lives.

Beginning as an accountant, Bobbie Sue was often integrated into the leadership team of the companies that paid for her accounting services. She learned the art of the deal and the art of getting along. Through close observation, she noted what worked and didn’t work in the business world: in terms of how groups function with one another, how department heads communicate with staff, and how messages are disseminated in the work place. She wanted to do more just than help companies with their accounting. She felt a calling to move into an area that would allow her to have more involvement in the lives of the people she was already interacting with. While still working as an accountant, she went to graduate school, obtained an advanced degree, went through a rigorous training process and now has a lot of letters at the end of her name. The MS stands for the masters of science degree she earned in Industrial-Organizational Psychology. The PCC stands for Professional Personal Coach and requires more than 750 hours of advanced training, and finally, CPEC, Certified Personal and Executive Coach, she earned from the College of Executive Coaching through a rigorous and concentrated period of study. She currently resides in Anchorage, Alaska with her husband and business partner, Dr. Rick Wolk.

Dr. Rick Wolk
Principal – Rosewood LLC/Chair – Vistage International (Alaska)

Rick is an educator, executive coach, and an entrepreneur with experience in all aspects of running organizations that strive for management and marketing excellence. In addition to his 10 years of teaching university students, Rick has also successfully managed business development, sales, marketing, human resources and administrative functions for intrapreneurial and entrepreneurial ventures; his experience includes P&L responsibility, general management, international business, new product development, and start-ups. Rick earned his PhD from Leeds Beckett University in the U.K. His Masters of Business Administration degree is from the Kellogg School of Management and his B.S. is from Northwestern University. In Alaska, Rick is a Board member for both the University Economic Development Association and for the World Trade Center Alaska. He is also a member of the advisory board for Alaska’s T.E.A.M. (The Entrepreneurs and Mentors Network) and a former Executive Director of Alaska Invest-Net. Rick’s Green Gazelle research allows him to work with Alaska’s entrepreneurs and their entrepreneurial ecosystems to influence high growth sustainability entrepreneurship in rural Alaska, helping entrepreneurs to be more financially successful, to create more jobs, and to be more ecologically positive. When he is not working, you will most likely find Rick in a kayak, on cross-country skis, or just hanging out with his wife and business partner Bobbie Sue Wolk.

Mat-Su CHARR members are excited to join other members from across the state in Seward for the annual CHARR convention. You don’t want to miss this fun and educational event!

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS!
Knik Bar & Grill

Kodiak CHARR was very happy to welcome our Alaska CHARR CEO, the affable, capable Sarah Oates and always a gentleman and equally capable, our Chairman of the Board, Paul Thomas. They were not only able to view some of our scenic wonders on this beautiful island but completed all the work they came here to do. It is a comfortable feeling to know that CHARR matters concerning our industry are in such competent hands.

We are more than happy to report that Helen Hartman from the American Legion and Ana Bravo from El Chi’s will be serving on the Alaska State CHARR Board, filling the vacant seats of Lynette Ponte and Dylan Dick.

We have just finished the arrangements to provide bus service to and from the fairgrounds for the Lion’s Club ‘Warm August Night’. This is a yearly event and we provide this service from 6:00 p.m. until 1:00 a.m. giving everyone a chance to go enjoy all the wonderful music provided, savor the food and drink then leave the driving to the bus driver. This is a night filled with fun for all.

We are in the process of making all the arrangements for the convention in Seward in September. Please try to work this convention into your schedule as, for some of you who have never attended one, you will be pleasantly surprised at how much you will learn about our industry not to mention all the fun it is and the new friends you will make.

Yes, we are still in a seemingly unending heat wave here and we are praying for rain to enable the salmon to swim up the rivers and creeks to spawn.
Kenai Peninsula CHARR would like to see YOU at the 2019 CHARR Convention! The dates are set and the venues are amazing! In order to help make sure we get to see you, KP CHARR would like to offer to cover 1 registration fee for each of our KP CHARR Members!!! This is a $325 value!!! Please contact us via email at kpcharr@gmail.com after you register. Can’t wait to see you in SEWARD!!!

Q: I heard that some CHARR members received money back on worker’s compensation insurance, is that true?
A: Yes, Alaska CHARR has returned over $1.8 million to our participating members.

Q: Why didn’t all the members get a check?
A: Checks were issued to all of the CHARR Members who participated in the workers comp insurance pool from 3 years ago.

Q: Some industry friends have been turned down for the program, why?
A: Republic Indemnity independently evaluates the applicants; some businesses with high losses or premiums that are too small are not eligible.

Q: Why is CHI Insurance featured so prominently in Alaska CHARR material? Can my hometown agent get me in the pool?
A: CHI helped CHARR develop the program and has been its prime sponsor, however your current agent can also sell you the policy.

There was a blog that was sent to me about an infamous T-shirt that was bought in a charity shop in Newbury in the county of West Berkshire, England. On the front of the shirt the shirt read “HUNGER HUT P*%#@Y POSSE”. On the back of the shirt it read “NORTH ROAD KENAI, ALASKA”. The article went into detail about a group of mothers in the mid nineteen sixties that decided to raise money to cure the issue of kids getting into trouble in the small town of Nikiski, Alaska. The group of mothers formed a comedy, music troupe that went around all of the bars on the peninsula, the brothels and lodges singing and telling jokes to help keep kids from getting into trouble. The group became so popular that the newspapers would announce where the “Big Blue Bus holding the Posse” would be and where they were going next. It was a huge success. The ladies had raised so much money that they wanted to do something big for Nikiski day. Nikiski day was celebrated and every person in town would meet up at the Hunger Hut to celebrate an annual picnic for the town to enjoy. The ladies raised so much money over time that they created a program, where every child under the age of 15 that lived in Nikiski would receive a brand new bike every year. Due to a law suit the program ended. That still did not stop these ladies! As they continued to raise money they purchased a plot of land and had an ice rink created next to a new covered pool, the pool is a huge part of Nikiski’s community till now. Just like the gentleman from England that was curious about where his diamond of a find came from, my curiosity also sparked and I had to speak to an original member of the Posse, Linda Superman who currently owns the Hunger Hut in Nikiski, AK and has been a member of Alaska CHARR for many years and vends pull-tabs for our affiliate, Kenai Peninsula CHARR.

CARA, CHARR: “The back story of the Hunger Hut and you being an original member of the “Posse” is great! How did acquire the Hunger Hut and how long has it been in business?”

CARA, CHARR: “As a bar owner what is important to you right now?”

LINDA, HUNGER HUT: “Trying to keep my rights and make my own decisions about my business.”

CARA, CHARR: “Why is it important for you to stay a CHARR member?”

LINDA, HUNGER HUT: “Because CHARR has our industry’s back lobbying for our rights! THANK YOU CHARR!”

Nikiski, AK a small little town with great history! If you ever visit Nikiski, make sure you stop by the Hunger Hut and enjoy a cold beverage and say hi to Linda Superman, an original member of the “Posse.”

When was the last time you took the TAP class??

If you are like many people across the state you may have been certified to serve and sell alcohol for quite some time. Sometimes people like the option to test out of certification and be certified with TAP for the next 3 years. But I think, rather than just testing out, that you should sit through the class! It can be a great way to learn something new about Alaska Statutes, identification, marijuana laws, firearms and refresh you on some new information.

Mandatory Alcohol Server Training for Alcohol Professionals (TAP)

All servers of alcoholic beverages, their supervisors and persons providing security in licensed businesses must receive approved alcohol server training within thirty days of employment. In the Municipality of Anchorage there is no such 30 day grace period and employees must have their certification prior to engaging in the act of serving or selling alcohol.

Each server, supervisor or security person must renew their server training certification every three years. There is no grace period for current employees with certification cards; this only applies to new hires.

For TAP or SERVSAFE please contact: Sergio Infanzon, Training for Alcohol Professionals (TAP) at Alaska CHARR • Phone: 907-274-8133 or Outside Anchorage: 1-800-478-2427
Class fee is $40 for CHARR members. Suggested retail for non-CHARR members is $55 for the class. Fees to test out of the class for renewal are $45 for members and $60 for non-members.

Valid identification is required for all classes. Outside of Anchorage an additional fee for non-members or local taxes may apply. Class dates are subject to change. Please contact the instructor in your area or the Alaska CHARR office at 800-478-2427 or in Anchorage at 274-8133 for more information.
